This drawing is a visualization aid for the EVLA Feed Layout. The cone formed by the phase center radius and the subreflector vertex has been "rolled out" to show feed positions relative to each other. The observer is looking 'east' from the antenna axis. The red vertical line is the elevation axis. The red arc is the cassegrain focus. X Bond is shown twice.